DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed March 19, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argument regarding the claimed limitation of ".....a data area storing multi-path video data corresponding to a plurality of reproduction paths forming different version of one titled to be reproduced exclusively" and "the two different version reproduced separately".

In response the examiner respectfully disagrees. Kato et al. discloses two different clips of one title as cited on the non-final office action. Kato et al. clip is a sequence of video and a user has an option either to play one clip or another different clip for the same title.

Applicant's arguments with respect to new claims 39-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Regarding Claim 1: Kato et al. discloses a computer readable recording medium having a data structure for managing reproduction of video data recorded on the recording medium, comprising: a data area storing multi-path video data corresponding to a plurality of reproduction paths forming different versions of one title to be reproduced exclusively (paragraph 180 and 182); wherein the plurality of reproduction paths include a first reproduction path forming a first version of one title and a second reproduction path forming a second version of one title (paragraph 0180 and fig. 6), and the first reproduction path is not reproduced during reproduction of the second reproduction path and the second reproduction path is not reproduced during reproduction of the first reproduction path (paragraph 0180), wherein the first reproduction path and the second reproduction path include a common path portion referring a same clip file (paragraph 0180 and fig. 6); and a navigation information area storing playlists including reproduction information of the multi-path video data, wherein the number of the playlists is the same as the number of the reproduction paths of multi-path video data (paragraph 212-213 and figure 14).

Regarding Claim 2: Kato et al. discloses a computer readable recording medium of claim 1, wherein each of the playlists is associated with all of clip files for one path of the plurality reproduction paths (paragraph 212-213).

Regarding Claim 4: Kato et al. discloses a computer readable recording medium of claim 1, wherein each of the playlists, includes a plurality of playitems, different playitems included in the different playlists identifies the same clip file referred by the common path portion of the plurality of reproduction paths_(paragraph 168, 0180 and figure 3).

Regarding Claim 5: Kato et al. discloses a computer readable recording medium having a data structure for managing reproduction of video data recorded on the recording medium, comprising: a data area storing multi-path video data corresponding to a plurality of reproduction paths forming different versions of one title to be reproduced exclusively (paragraph 182, 212-213); wherein the plurality of reproduction paths include a first reproduction path forming a first version of one title and a second reproduction path forming a second version of one title (paragraph 0180 and fig. 6), and the first reproduction path is not reproduced during reproduction of the second reproduction path and the second reproduction path is not reproduced during reproduction of the first reproduction path (paragraph 0180), wherein the first reproduction path and the second reproduction path include a common path portion referring a same clip file (paragraph 0180 and fig. 6); and a navigation information area storing a playlist including reproduction information of the multi-path video data, wherein the playlist includes a plurality of playitems identifying different clip files for different reproduction paths, respectively (figure 20-21).

Regarding Claim 6: Kato et al. discloses a computer readable recording medium of claim 5, wherein the playlist further includes at least one playitem identifying the clip file referred by the common path portion of the plurality of reproduction paths (paragraph 212-213 and fig. 21).

Regarding Claims 15-16: Claims 15-16 are rejected for the same subject matter as claim 1 and 5 respectively as discussed above.

Regarding Claims 18-19: Claims 18-19 are rejected for the same subject matter as claims 1 and 5 respectively as discussed above.

Regarding Claim 21: Kato et al. discloses a method for reproducing a data structure for managing reproduction of video data recorded on a recording medium, the method comprising: reading at least one playlist including reproduction information of multi-path video data from on the recording medium, wherein the multi-path video data corresponds to a plurality of reproduction paths forming different versions of one title to be reproduced exclusively (paragraph 180 and 182), wherein the plurality of reproduction paths include a first reproduction path forming a first version of one title and a second reproduction path forming a second version of one title (paragraph 0180 and fig. 6), and the first reproduction path is not reproduced during reproduction of the second reproduction path and the second reproduction path is not reproduced during reproduction of the first reproduction path (paragraph 0180), wherein the first reproduction path and the second reproduction path include a common path portion referring a same clip file (paragraph 0180 and fig. 6); and reproducing selected one of the reproduction paths of the multi-path video data based on the read reproduction information (paragraph 0180-0181).

Art Unit: 2621

Regarding Claim 22: Claim 22 is rejected for the same subject matter as claim 21 as discussed above.

Regarding Claim 23: Kato et al. discloses a method of claim 15, wherein each of the playlists is associated with all of the clip files for one path of the plurality of reproduction paths (Fig. 6a).

Regarding Claim 24: Kato et al. discloses a method of claim 15, wherein each of the playlists includes a plurality of playitems, different playitems included in the different playlists identifies the same clip file referred by the common path portion of the plurality of reproduction paths (paragraph 0180).

Regarding Claim 25: Kato et al. discloses a method of claim 16, wherein the playlist further includes at least one playitem identifying the clip file referred by the common path portion of the plurality of reproduction paths (paragraph 0180).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 30-40 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kato et al. as applied to claim 1- above, and further in view of Fleming, III et al. (US 6,973,461).

Regarding Claim 39: Kato et al. discloses all the claim limitation of computer readable recording medium of claim 1, further Fleming et al. discloses the navigation information area further stores a parental control information for reproducing permitted parental level of the title (column 2 lines 23-36).

It would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to combine Kato et al. invention into Fleming et al. in order to control audiovisual work.

Regarding Claim 40: Kato et al. discloses all the claim limitation of computer readable recording medium of claim 1, further Fleming et al. discloses one of the versions of the title is a parental control version of the title (column 2 lines 23-36).

It would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to combine Kato et al. invention into Fleming et al. in order to control audiovisual work.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
